Grad Progress Layout | Program Display | View Progress towards another Academic Program | Expanding Grad Progress Areas

The Graduation Progress tool allows students and parents/guardians a color-coded view of all courses within a student's progress toward completion of a Graduation Plan or Career Technical Education (CTE) Plan.

For Graduation Programs, the tab displays the student's assigned academic program, listing the total credit the student has received and planned in each credit type assigned to the academic program. For CTE Programs, a list of test requirements and course requirements display.

The following can be done on this tab:

- View the student's overall progress in the assigned academic program
- See the student's Course, Test and GPA Requirements for the assigned academic plan
- See the student's Academic Program progress for another academic program
- Expand areas to display more detail

Graduation Progress Tool

The numbers displayed on the left side of the slash refer to the number of credits earned, in progress or planned; the number on the right side of the slash is the number of credits required.

In Progress indicates the student is currently enrolled in a course that has not ended or that transcript information has not been posted. It's based on the number of credits assigned to the course. Planned courses are based on the assumed courses the student will take in the future, as noted on the Course Plan tool.

Grad Progress Layout

The Grad Progress screen contains a section for each component created with the Academic Program. The sections may include Credit Requirements, Course Requirements, Test Requirements and GPA Requirements. Progress toward completion of the Academic Plan can be highlighted as follows:

- Green cells - student has met or exceeded the program requirements and is considered to be on track for the academic program
- Red cells - student has not met the program requirements and is considered to be behind for the academic program
- Yellow cells - student has credit types that have credits overflowing from one credit type to another

Program Display

The main view of the Graduation Progress tab shows the student's requirements for their assigned academic plan.

If a student does not have an assigned academic program, the tab still displays but no information is available.

View Progress towards another Academic Program

It is possible to see a student's progress toward another program without modifying the student's current academic program assignment. For example, counselors may want to view a current Honors Program student's progress towards the Advanced Placement Program.

This can be done by selecting a different program from the dropdown list at the top of the page. The dropdown list contains all academic programs available for this student.

Viewing Progress towards another Program

Choosing to view a different program does not modify the student's existing program assignment. If the counselor and student decide to change programs after viewing the new program, the counselor would need to make that change.

Expanding Grad Progress Areas

Additional information can be viewed for Credit Type, Course Requirements and Test Requirements by clicking the available plus signs. This detail is based on the components associated with the assigned Academic Program.

For each Credit Type where credits have been earned, attempted, are in-progress or are planned for the future, the following displays:

- Grade level
- Course Number and Name
- Score received
- Credit toward the Academic Program
- Overflow Credits, if available

Credits that contribute to the overflow count are labeled, and failing scores are noted in red text (credit usually isn't given for failing scores).

When a course has a planning rule of Parent of/Child of, each course displays. Each course also displays the correct credit value, total value per credit type and total value per grade level for each course.
